Beacon Economics and the University of California, Riverside invite you to join us at the 2011 Riverside San Bernardino Economic Forecast Conference. Hear some of the state's most reputable forecasters as they deliver a new outlook for the U.S., California, and Inland Southern California economies:

- Is the recent slowdown in the U.S. economy a sign of worse to come? Or are we over the hump?
- Housing prices have stabilized but sales remain weak. What really ails the housing market?
- Can President Obama or Governor Brown make a dent in unemployment before the 2012 election?
- When will growth return to Inland Southern California?
